

Give the Ordinance A Sleighride, Said Ex-Alderman Mann

He Was Speaking in Opposition to Proposed Hawking and Peddling Ordinance at Public Hearing Held by Laws and Rules Committee of Common Council Monday Evening.

Indications point to the fact that the proposed hawking and peddling ordinance sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and now in the hands of the laws and rules committee of the Common Council will not be adopted by the council. At the public hearing held by the laws and rules committee of the council at the city hall on Monday evening no one appeared to speak in favor of the adoption of the ordinance while several appeared in opposition.

Former Alderman Ralph Mann, who is now engaged in the business of peddling vegetables, was one of the principal speakers in opposition to the ordinance at the hearing that evening. "I move you table this ordinance," he said, "for I don't see where it has a leg to stand on. It helps nobody and it is going to hurt Kingston if it is adopted. I hope you gentlemen give this ordinance a sleighride—a veto when it comes up for a vote Tuesday night."

Mr. Mann also stated that the only cigar factory downtown would be forced to close its doors if this ordinance were adopted. "Roundout needs help now," said Mr. Mann.

William Simpson, who said he had been peddling vegetables in Kingston for the past forty-five years, said it was all he could do now to make a living without having to pay a license fee which he would have to do if the ordinance were adopted.

Harold Cook, another peddler, said that Mr. Simpson had expressed his views in the matter, and urged that the ordinance be defeated.

Joseph Conlin, a peddler, said that last Saturday he collected something over $4 in cash and had to "hang up over $2."

"If you see any profit in that, you see more than I do," he said. Mr. Conlin said that he had not been able to pay his taxes yet, and would be able to for some time. "That's all we are getting these days is bare," he said.

Mr. Ball, who is engaged in the vegetable business downtown, and Ewan Levinson also spoke in opposition to the ordinance. Mr. Ball said that the peddlers had expected to have a spokesman present at the hearing to speak in their behalf but he had not shown up.

The hearing was attended by about 50 men, the majority of them engaged in the vegetable business as peddlers.

Alderman Charles Derrenbacher, chairman of the laws and rules committee, presided at the hearing. The other members of the committee who were present, are Aldermen McGrane, Baines, Relyea and Conrad Heisterman, president of the Common Council. Also present were Aldermen Zucca, Sullivan, Neice and Epstein.

The proposed ordinance was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce but no one appeared from that organization to speak in favor of the adoption of the ordinance. A petition signed by about 150 business men favoring the ordinance had been filed with the committee.

After giving every one present an opportunity to be heard either for or against the ordinance, Chairman Derrenbacher closed the hearing.

It is expected that the committee will submit a report later to the Common Council, probably at the regular monthly meeting this evening at the city hall.

CAPTAIN LEONARD SEIZED WITH STROKE AT YONKERS.

Monday evening police headquarters received a telephone call from the Yonkers police asking that Police Officer Edward J. Leonard, of the local force, be notified that his father, Captain John J. Leonard, of 128 Hudson street, had been seized with a slight stroke on board his barge. Police Officer Leonard left immediately for Yonkers and returned later with his father.

MAN MADE BIRD VISITS BORNEO HEAD HUNTERS

New York, May 3 (AP)—The big chief of the Borneo head hunters had a ride in an airplane and all the lesser head hunters sat in their canoes with their mouths open.

Richard Halliburton, the traveler in whose plane the chief rode, cabled friends here today that the main point the head hunters were interested in after the flight was if the airplane laid eggs.

New International Park.

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Hoover today signed an act creating what will be known as the "Waterson-Glacier International Peace Park" joining parts of Montana and Alberta, British Columbia.

The new park will comprise two parks already established, the Glacier National Park in Montana and the Waterson National Park in Alberta. The international boundary line runs through Waterson Lake.

The members of the ticket committee of the recent Rain-forest Ball wish to remind all patrons who have failed to make returns that they are desirous of making final returns in their report at this meeting.

Charge Boy With Stealing a Car

Luther Husted, 16, of R. F. D. No. 1, Arrested on Charge of Stealing Carl Deyo's Auto—Car Later Recovered—Other Cases in Police Court.

The night of April 28, Carl Deyo, who operates the movie machine at the Orpheum Theatre, and resides at 40 Esopus avenue, town of Ulster, went to get his Chevrolet sedan after the last performance at the theatre, only to find it missing. He had left it parked on Spring street, near the theatre. The theft of the car was immediately reported to the police department, and a general alarm sent out.

Monday afternoon Sergeant Cunningham of the State Troopers found the car abandoned in the rear of a vacant building at Quarryville. The tires had been stripped from the car. The state police made an investigation which led later in the day to the arrest of Luther Husted, 16, of R. F. D. No. 1, who was charged with grand larceny in stealing the car.

This morning the boy was arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court and the hearing adjourned to Wednesday morning so that the boy's family could be notified of the trouble he was in.

Said Car Hit Him

Early Monday evening police headquarters received a telephone call that there was a man lying in the road on Wilbur avenue. The police car was sent to the spot and Police Officer Schoonmaker, who said he now works on a farm about six miles above Saugerties, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

This morning Schoonmaker told Judge Culliton that he had been struck by an auto and knocked down. He said that the reason he had come to Kingston on Monday was to see a physician to have him treat his leg.

After hearing Schoonmaker's story the court sentenced Schoonmaker to five days in jail.

Other Cases in Court

James Feeney, who said he lived on a farm at Springtown, and who was picked up on Greenhill avenue on a charge of public intoxication on Monday, was fined $5.

Eugene LaSage of this city, arrested for public intoxication on North Front street, was fined $5.

This morning John McLean withdrew the charge of disorderly conduct he had lodged against Tracey Gorsline of this city, and Gorsline was discharged.

Leonard Glas of Brooklyn, was fined $10 for driving a car carrying license plates that had been issued for another auto.

Captain Lancaster Charged With Murder

Miami, Fla., May 3 (AP)—Captain W. N. Lancaster, British flier, has been charged with first degree murder in the strange shooting of Haden Clark, writer and fiance of Mrs. Jessie Keith-Miller, the aviator's flying partner, on his reported confession to forging two suicide notes.

The flier was detained yesterday on a warrant sworn to by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne who said he probably would go before the Dade county grand jury today to seek an indictment. Hawthorne has exonerated Mrs. Keith-Miller in whose home the two men were guests at the time of the shooting April 21 but said she would be called as a grand jury witness.

Hawthorne, who described the position of the trio before the shooting as forming a "love triangle," said Lancaster confessed, in the face of statements by a nationally known handwriting expert, that he wrote the two notes, addressed to himself and Mrs. Keith-Miller, as from Clarke, but denied killing the writer, Lancaster. Hawthorne said, explained he wrote the notes to remove suspicion from Mrs. Keith-Miller and himself.

Since the shooting the aviatrix has affirmed her love for Clarke, but maintained her belief he took his own life. The charge against Lancaster under Florida law precludes admission to bail.

Tackle Modification Of Security Sales Tax

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Modification of the controversial stock and bond sales tax voted by the house was undertaken today in the senate finance committee.

The end of the committee's work on the billion dollar revenue measure was near, with leaders confident it would be finished tomorrow night.

Two alternatives to the tax of one-fourth of one per cent imposed by the house, and vigorously protested by the stock exchange, are pending.

One is the administration proposal for a flat four cents a share tax. The other is a suggestion by Senator Couzens (R., Mich.), for a graduated levy applying according to the value of the stock.

Views of Postmaster General Brown also were sought today on the house increase of one cent in postal rates. Approval of this provision was in prospect.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Treasury receipts for April 20 were $32,267,459.71; expenditures $23,601,792.26; balance $22,465,269.13. Customs duties for April were $21,383,223.67.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR ST. LAWRENCE DEVELOPMENT

Toronto, May 3 (AP)—The Toronto Mail and Empire in a dispatch from Ottawa today quoted Premier George S. Harvey of Ontario as saying an agreement would be signed in about two weeks between the dominion government and the Ontario government whereby Ontario will contribute $125,000,000 to development of 7,000,000 horse power in electric plants on the international section of the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway.

Work on the Harlem Valley State Hospital at Windgate by a force of 250 bricklayers today awaited decision by the contractors on a proposal by the strikers that they would return to work and accept a $2.20 cut provided the money went to the state or to some charity.

The men left the job yesterday in protest against a cut from $13.20 a day to $11. Bricklayers in Poughkeepsie accepted a similar cut but the hospital workers contended the $13.20 wage was specified by contract and included in the estimate of the cost of construction and hence would be just so much more money in the pocket of the contractors.

DISPUTE OVER WAGE CUT AT WINGDALE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Work on the Harlem Valley State Hospital at Windgate by a force of 250 bricklayers today awaited decision by the contractors on a proposal by the strikers that they would return to work and accept a $2.20 cut provided the money went to the state or to some charity.

Seek Damages For Loss Of Effects

An action to recover for the value of personal effects which were destroyed in a fire last September, when a bungalow which had been rented for over Labor Day burned, was taken up for trial in Supreme Court this morning.

Solomon Bauck and a party of friends from New York city rented a bungalow from Samuel Longyear of the town of Woodstock last fall. They moved in with some of their personal effects and intended to spend Labor Day there, about four or five days in all. On Sunday morning while they were in possession of the property it burned and their personal effects were destroyed. They seek now to recover for those effects. The plaintiffs allege the fire was caused by a defective oil stove. This is denied by defendant, who alleges that at the time they were in sole possession of the premises, he had no control over the place.

Morris Eiskorn of New York appears for the plaintiffs and A. J. Cook appears for Mr. Longyear.

Unusual Interest in California Primary

Democratic Faction Bring Their Campaigns To Close With Whirlwind Finish—Republican Campaign Is Placid.

San Francisco, May 3 (AP)—California democracy, torn asunder by the Garner-Roosevelt-Smith fight for control of the delegation to the national convention, sought succor from internal strife in the presidential primary today while Republicans united in a "confidence" vote for President Hoover.

Having mustered the greatest registered strength in the state's history, Democratic factions brought their campaigns to a close with a whirlwind finish of bitter wrangling over party control. Challenges of veracity and sincerity and charges of misrepresentation and political treachery were hurled to the last.

In contrast was the placid campaign of Republican leaders who sought to turn out a heavy vote for the uncontested delegation pledged to President Hoover, both to encourage the President and impress the nation.

Political eyes of the country were turned on the primary as unusual interest surrounds the Democratic contest for the state's 44 votes in the Chicago convention. It is the first clear cut contest by supporters of John N. Garner, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, and leaders of each faction predicted victory. The successful delegation will vote at the convention for the candidate to which it is pledged until he releases it.

Victory for the Roosevelt delegation would place him definitely at the head of the parade toward the party nomination. Success for Smith would prove a serious obstacle to the Roosevelt cause, coming on the heels of the "chock" that the former New York governor said he put under the Roosevelt bandwagon last week in Massachusetts. Selection of the Garner delegation would lift the speaker of the National House of Representatives from the favorite son group.

Party discord is evident in the alignment of leaders behind the candidates. Justus S. Wardell, chairman of the state executive committee, heads the Roosevelt delegation, although in 1928 he was a Smith delegate. Isidore B. Dockweiler, national committeeman, also is numbered in the Roosevelt camp.

Speaker Garner has the support of the bulk of the Democratic state organization. Included are Mrs. Charles L. Donohue, national committeewoman; Dr. Z. T. Malaby, state chairman; Henry H. McKie, former state chairman; William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and William Randolph Hearst, publisher. Malaby was on the 1928 Smith delegation.

P. M. Abbott, executive secretary of the A. L. Smith presidential league of California, heads the delegation for the party's 1928 candidate. The slate is composed of lesser known Democrats.

Two of the candidates projected themselves into the campaign, Roosevelt through his son who came west to campaign for his father, and Smith by a letter to one of his supporters in which he charged Wardell, head of the Roosevelt delegation, with "grossly misrepresenting" him.

Word reached Smith through one of his supporters that Wardell had circulated a report that Smith would nominate Roosevelt at Chicago. Wardell denied it and Smith countered by challenging his veracity.

Roosevelt's son, James D. Roosevelt, spoke at San Francisco and Los Angeles. Discussing prohibition, which has not been made an outright issue, he urged those who want something done about it to vote for his father, those who don't want anything done to vote for Smith and the dregs to vote for Garner.

Forty-seven Republicans comprise the delegation pledged to support Hoover at Chicago.

Al Capone Packs For Trip To Penitentiary

Chicago, May 3 (AP)—The last obstacle to prevent the removal of "Scarface" Al Capone to a federal penitentiary was removed today when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals vacated a writ of superseas which had held the big gangster in the county jail while he appealed his conviction for evading income taxes.

The appellate court vacated "its" writ after it had received a certified copy of the United States Supreme Court's decision yesterday refusing to review Capone's case.

A mittimus ordering Capone to prison was then made out and it was expected that he would be started for Leavenworth, Kansas, within 24 hours.

Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheller kept his plans for the prison trip secret, saying he wanted no crowds or interference.

Capone, giving up hope at last, packed his belongings soon after arising at the county jail.

The gang leader has been in jail since October 24, 1931, when Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson sentenced him to 11 years, fined him $50,000 and refused to grant him bail. The time Capone has spent in jail does not apply on his prison term.

Marshal Laubenheller had 17 other federal prisoners to be taken to Leavenworth and he said Capone would receive the same treatment en route as the other men.

Capone Belligerent $175 Verdict in Undefended Action In Supreme Court

Chicago, May 3 (AP)—Jury days for Al Capone appear to be about over, with prison looming ahead, and Capone is not very happy about the prospect.

Government officials were preparing today to transfer him to a federal penitentiary and start him on his eleven year sentence for failing to pay the government income tax on the enormous profits he is reputed to have made from his gangland activities in Chicago.

United States Marshal H. W. C. Laubenheller said last night following news that the United States Supreme Court had refused to intervene in Capone's conviction that he was practically certain the gang chief would be taken to Leavenworth and not to Atlanta and that it was probable the trip would be started early tonight.

Capone Speaks.

Meanwhile the notorious Capone spoke his mind.

"It's not fair," he is reported to have said in his cell when news of the Supreme Court's action was received. "I'm the victim of public clamor. My sentence should have been two and one-half years, but because I went to a few baseball games they made it 11 years. I'm still willing to fight it if my lawyers are with me."

The short sentence Capone referred to was reported to have been recommended by Federal prosecutors in consideration of Capone's plea of guilt, which he subsequently withdrew when Judge James H. Wilkerson declined to be bound by any agreement. That was last summer. In October Capone went on trial and was convicted. Ever since then he has been held in the county jail, while his attorneys have fought through the courts all the way to the Supreme Court to set aside the conviction.

Mother With Him

Capone's mother was with him when the news came from Washington. He refused to see newspaper men, but jail attaches said he was furious.

Federal officials said there would be no special favors for Capone either in prison or enroute. With him they planned to take 17 other Federal prisoners convicted of various offenses—narcotic smuggling, bootlegging, counterfeiting, Mann Act violations and others.

Assault Cases Get Attention in Hawaii

Boycott of Employees of Massive Trial Juries Makes Appearance—Expect Request for Retrial of Massive.

Honolulu, May 3 (AP)—With a boycott sweeping through Honolulu's economic life as the only apparent reaction here to last Friday's conviction of four Americans for lynching a Hawaiian, attention today turned to cases of assault upon women pending on the criminal calendar.

The first of these is the charge against Joseph Young, 22-year-old Korean, accused of attacking a young Chinese girl. His trial begins today.

Interest, however, focused on the forthcoming retrial of four men of mixed races accused of assaulting Mrs. Thalia Massie, whose husband and mother were convicted of manslaughter for lynching the fifth defendant in the first attack trial.

Legislation to prevent acquittal of the four accused men by a second trial was pending before Congress and Governor Lawrence M. Judd of Hawaii. The Senate speedily passed such a bill in Washington yesterday and sent it to the House. A similar measure was passed by the territorial legislature last Saturday and now awaits the governor's signature.

Attention also was given the expected request for a new trial of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and two naval enlisted men from the manslaughter conviction.

The retrial is generally expected to be within two weeks.

While the boycott was hard to trace, it was unmistakable.

Wants Protection.

Walter Napoleon, meat cutter and Hawaiian member of the manslaughter jury, applied for police protection after he said he was threatened by telephone. His employer, John O'Loughlin, said he would discard threats of customers to boycott his store unless Napoleon was discharged.

While Beyer, a juror and leading potato chip manufacturer, admitted he had received no orders from the navy since the conviction, but attributed little significance to it.

While resentment in navy circles was admitted, leaves of sailors from nearby Pearl Harbor naval base have not been curtailed.

Meanwhile Lieut. Massie and the two enlisted men convicted with him—E. J. Lord and A. O. Jones—were relieved of their duties at the naval base.

Mrs. Fortescue and her daughter, Mrs. Massie, were reported to have recovered from the shock of the verdict.

Further Battering At Economy Bill

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Uncompromising revolters in the House today undertook the final dismantling of the economy bill.

Big cuts in veterans' allowances, amounting in all to some $48,000,000, were at issue. Few disputed that most if not all of this section of the bill would be thrown out, to follow provisions cutting pay of federal workers, consolidating the army and navy, and others which had been counted on to save more than $200,000,000 to the government next year, but could not ride the storm of congressional disapproval.

The defeated leaders rested their chances on forcing the members to put their names down on roll call on each major section rejected. This procedure, permitted after the amending process is completed, was to be the final step before passage of the bill, tentatively set for this evening.

The record voters, the leaders hoped, would find a great many members deserting the opposition to avoid the wrath of economy-seeking constituents who will have the final say in the November elections.

The disposition of the House on veterans' matters was well attested yesterday in its passage, 216 to 16, of a pension bill for widows and orphans of the World War soldiers, a measure that within five years is expected to be costing the nation around $100,000,000 annually.

Just before that, the House enacted also one of its own economic ideas, passing the Goldborough bill ordering the Treasury and Reserve Board to fix the dollar's purchasing power at its average value between 1921 and 1929.

Alabama Democrats

Montgomery, Ala., May 3 (AP)—Alabama Democrats voted today on whether to pledge their 24 convention votes to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York or leave the state's delegation uninstructed as to a presidential candidate.

A free man race for the senatorial nomination, in which prohibition and the disposition of Muscle Shoals have been primary issues, shared interest with the fight over control of Alabama's delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Free Methodist Ministry Society.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministry Society of the Free Methodist Church for the month of May will be held on Wednesday evening, May 4, at 7:45 in the home of Mrs. Alfred Burrman on the Boulevard. A large attendance is desired. An interesting meeting has been held as an interesting meeting has been held as an interesting meeting has been held.

Hoover Winner in Maryland Primary

Baltimore, May 3 (AP)—Joseph P. Francis, gentleman farmer, a United States Senator from Maryland a dozen years ago, and aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, has settled his home state ties with President Hoover and announced second best.

The president carried yesterday's preferential primary by nearly 10,000 votes on the basis of practically complete returns, gathered from one of the most apathetic contests in years.

Official tabulation from 1,262 voting places out of 1,265 gave President Hoover 23,955, Francis 16,518 and an uninstructed delegation 1,263 votes. It was the first in-out and out contest between the two, last night.

IT'S PRESIDENTIAL YEAR

Albert Cabell Ritchie

Political Headliners

Almost from the day of his birth on August 29, 1876, Albert Cabell Ritchie breathed books and public service. His father was Judge Albert Ritchie, noted Maryland jurist. His mother was Elizabeth Caskie Cabell, whose grandfather was governor of Virginia. His education was thorough. He was born in Richmond, Va., but lived in Maryland most of his life.

He was educated by tutors and in private schools in his youth. When he was 15 he was getting 50 cents a week as allowance. That was not enough, so he published a paper, increased his earnings $2. He had the paper two years, learning a lot about how to please people. Entered John Hopkins University. Was a second stringer in college football.

In 1894 he was graduated from John Hopkins. Two years later he finished at the University of Maryland with a law degree. In 1902 he was named assistant city solicitor of Baltimore. In 1907 he married Elizabeth Baker, from whom he now is divorced. As solicitor he learned about politics in the law. Saw the work of the two bosses, Mahon and Kelly.

He was appointed people's counsel in 1910. In a dramatic fight he won lower gas and electric rates from the public utilities. His victory brought him the attorney generalship. He was elected governor in 1919 by a majority of only 155 votes. He reorganized the state government. Assumed not only titular but real leadership of his party in the state.

In 1924 he was reelected with a majority of 40,000. No other Maryland governor had even been reelected. Vehement attacks on prohibition brought him a national fame. In 1926 he again was reelected governor with a majority of 60,000. Again made governor in 1930. If he continues to end of term he will have served longer than any other governor in the United States.

Flashes of Life Sketched In Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Gloucester, N. J.—It isn't raining rain, my dear, it's raining—you'd never guess—fish! John Battersby was fishing. He caught one fish. Along came a fish hawk and seemed to feel very sorry for Mr. Battersby. The hawk dived, came up with a flounder, circled above Mr. Battersby and then dropped the flounder at the Battersby feet. As fish stories go, this rates A-plus.
Adams, Mass.—"Eggs!" They may say in a certain lawyer's home within a year or so, "eggs for breakfast, eggs for dinner, eggs for supper!" The thing of it is that two Adams lawyers, who did some law work for a client, agreed in lieu of $250 (which the client did not have) to accept 1,000 dozen eggs over a ten year period. One lawyer doesn't like eggs, so the other one will have to do the best he can about it. Eggs, without doubt, are very nourishing.

Mrs. Moyer, feeling sorry, said: "We'd better get married again." They didn't have any money, so the court performed the ceremony gratis. Which was very nice of the court.
Cleveland, O.—Abe Cohen, speaking over a radio station, told the folks how to be a successful bootlegger. This annoyed the prohibition agents, so they arrested him. Mr. Cohen is now about decided to tear up another speech on how not to get arrested by prohibition agents.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.
You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Oldest Mother Will Win Box of Candy

Age is not always considered an advantage, but the McBride drug stores are submitting a proposition this week in which it takes age to win. They are offering to the oldest mother who registers at one of their stores, between now and noon Friday, a two pound box of chocolates. A son or daughter may register the name, giving address, date of birth and number of children. Any mother in Kingston or vicinity may enter the contest, which is absolutely free. Names may be registered at any of the McBride stores up to Friday noon.

MANGAN DENIED HE KNEW OF LOOTING.

Court House, Cooperstown, N. Y., May 3 (P).—Thomas J. Mangan, a director of the wrecked state bank of Binghamton, today denied from the witness stand with a positive "No, sir, never," and a shake of his gray head that he knew at any time of looting operations that sent his bank into a $2,000,000 crash. His denials were made in answer to the examination of his counsel, Clayton R. Lusk, defending Mangan and two other directors, Elmer J. Churchill and Sigmund A. Friedlander, in their trial for falsifying reports made to the state banking department on the bank's condition. Mangan, stroking the top of his head and staring at the ceiling, explained in technical detail his part in the examinations of the bank made by a committee of the board of directors. He asserted with emphasis that he had no knowledge of thefts from the bank funds or wholesale forgery of notes which the state says were made by Andrew J. Horvath, the bank's president.

Tries to End Life in Cell.
Mineola, N. Y., May 3 (P).—Robert Koehler, 30, a plasterer, attempted to end his life today by bumping his head against the steel bars of his cell in the county jail as he was about to be taken into court for the second day of a new trial on manslaughter charges. He suffered a fractured skull and was taken to Nassau Hospital, where physicians said he would recover. The trial was put over for a week.

To Undergo Second Operation.
London, May 3 (P).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will undergo a second operation on his eyes Thursday afternoon, it was decided after a consultation of his physicians today. Thursday's operation will be on his right eye, to prevent a threat to his sight from glaucoma, the disease which was the cause of the operation on his left eye four months ago.

Report Prohibition Is Driving People To Hard Liquor

Washington, May 3 (P).—A minority of the Senate manufacturers committee reported to the Senate today that "The effect of prohibition seems to have been the driving of the people to hard liquor with a resultant increase in drunkenness, deaths from alcoholism and general lawlessness."

The statement was made in a minority report favoring a bill to permit manufacture of four per cent beer. A majority of the committee voted against the bill but permitted it to come to the Senate with an unfavorable report.

The minority report presented by Senator Metcalf (R., R. I.), said "It is evident that prohibition has not only failed to decrease drunkenness but that arrests for intoxication have been steadily increasing until they have reached the highest point in American history."

He said testimony given before a sub-committee which he headed led to the conclusion that enactment of the beer bill would "promote temperance and decrease crime."

The minority which favored the beer bill comprised Senators Metcalf, Barbour (R., N. J.), Buckley (D., Ohio), and LaFollette (R., Wis.), chairman of the manufacturers committee.

Will Make Plans for Schmeling Reception

It has been announced that 10,000 applications for tickets to the Sharmeling-Schmeling fight have been received by the Madison Square Garden Corporation which has appealed to the boxing commission to fix the date of the championship scramble for June 21. Application for that date was made so that the battle would not conflict with the Republican national convention at Chicago on June 14, or with the Democratic meeting two weeks later. The original date of the fight was June 16.

Max Schmeling will arrive in Kingston on Wednesday evening, May 11, via the Rhinebeck ferry, to begin training at Greenkill Lodge. He is to be given a big welcome, plans for which are to be taken up tonight at the meeting of the common council in the city hall.

A list of contributors to the fund to bring Schmeling to Kingston was recently published in the Freeman. To the list have been added the following names: L. S. Wingo, Rose & Gorman, Forst Packing Company, Philip Elting, J. E. Klock, Kingston Buick Company, Stuyvesant Garage, Central Business Men's Association, Downtown Business Men's Association, Island Dock Lumber Company, Edward Weber, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, R. S. Rodie, Triangle Lunch, Armour & Company, Elmer Palen, Carl Miller & Son, H. Simonetti.

On the evening of his arrival at Greenkill Lodge Max will be given a banquet at which will be present 150 prominent citizens of Kingston and vicinity.

Says Propaganda Is Against Bonus

Washington, May 3 (P).—Representative Patman (D., Tex.) charged before the House ways and means committee today that a flood of "inspired propaganda" had been loosed in the country against the cash bonus payment.

A leading sponsor of the $2,000,000,000 new money outlay, Patman opened rebuttal testimony before the committee. He said 93 per cent of the American Legion membership favors the payment.

Patman presented huge newspaper advertisements against the bonus. "I have tried to find who is paying for them but cannot," he said. "The newspapers will only say they received $375 for printing it."

Patman also said pressure had been brought on Legion posts to prevent them from favoring cash redemption of the bonus certificates. "I do not see how anyone consistently can vote for the Goldsborough stabilization bill and then vote against this plan," Patman said.

The house passed the Goldsborough bill to stabilize prices by a vote of 285 to 60. Patman said "The same experts who have had charge of our financial and economic systems the past few years have appeared against this bill."

"The fact that our country is in the condition it is in is the best evidence that they are not capable of giving sound advice or that they have not acted upon sound advice," he said.

Presbyterians Call Rev. Mr. Gates

The Rev. H. Goodrich Gates of New York city was unanimously extended a call to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street at a meeting of the congregation held at the church on Monday evening. Mr. Gates is married and at present is pastor of the Church of the Puritans on 130th street in New York city.

The pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church has been vacant since last December when the Rev. Dr. Putnam Cady resigned as pastor.

Deficit Confronts U. S. Government

Washington, May 3 (P).—A deficit of $2,324,165,142 confronts the government at the conclusion of ten months of the 1932 fiscal year. The treasury statement on the condition of its finances at the end of April made public today, showed it had collected from all sources $1,685,666,535 and had spent $4,009,831,677.

The chief cause of the decline in government collections, which for the same period last year amounted to $2,569,730,518, was caused by a slump in income tax. This form of the government's income in the ten months of the present year amounted to $872,262,562 compared with $1,226,928,262 in the same period last year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue fell off $50,000,000 to $420,738,151 while customs receipts declined nearly $20,000,000 to $292,275,594. Meantime government expenditures were $663,000,000 greater than for the same period last year.

Kingston: "The Miracle Man." One of the greatest of the silent films now comes to the talking screen with a new cast, and the advantages of modern photography. The story centers around the old faith-healing theme, and it packs a terrific dramatic punch. A notable cast helps make this talkie a great success. Hobart Bosworth is splendid in the role of the Miracle Man; Chester Morris gives an exceptional performance as the gang leader; John Wray, in the role of the fake cripple, that started Lon Chaney on the road to stardom, is effective; and Sylvia Sydney is good in the role that brought Betty Compson fame in the old moving picture version. Others in the cast include Irving Pichel, Boris Karloff, and Jackie Coogan. A "Mickey Mouse" cartoon is another feature of the program.

Orpheum: "Arrowsmith." The famous novel of Sinclair Lewis has been adapted to the screen in a realistic and enjoyable manner. Ronald Colman proves his dramatic ability in the role of the young doctor who rises to great heights in his profession, and Helen Hayes as his wife, gives a performance that is understandingly human. Good entertainment.

Broadway: "Seven Paramount Vaudeville Acts" on the stage. And "The Water Sex" on the screen. The vaudeville offers "Grace Claire and Haines" in dances that are different. "Cole, Eleanor and Cole" in a merry musical presentation, along with five other stage acts. "The Water Sex" couldn't help but be a successful movie with a cast that includes Claudette Colbert, Lilian Tashman, Melvyn Douglas, and William Boyd. It's a story that takes us everything from society to politicians to gangsters. There are a lot of thrills in this talkie, and it will prove enjoyable entertainment if it isn't taken with too much seriousness.

Ritz: "Arsene Lupin." Acting perfection by the Barrymore boys raises this talkie to the heights. Never have John or Lionel Barrymore given finer characterizations than in this interesting story, and that is saying much considering their professional reputations. The story centers around a dashing Parisian thief who baffles the police with his continual eccentricities. John Barrymore, as Arsene Lupin, the clever criminal, furnishes the romantic interest in this thoroughly enjoyable film, and Lionel Barrymore, as Captain of the Police, gives perhaps his finest character performance. Both of them outdo themselves, and the honors and up all even. Karen Morley, a newcomer, proves to be a new and fascinating discovery, and her acting is enjoyable. But the show goes to the Barrymore brothers where it belongs. Splendid entertainment.

Tomorrow.

Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Way Back Home" and "Spurs." The first is the talkie version of that famous radio character, Seth Parker, and his Jonesport, Maine, neighbors. It's exceptional entertainment, different in plot, and wholesome from start to finish. A fine cast makes this picture splendid entertainment. "Spurs" stars Hoot Gibson, pride of the kiddies, in a hard riding, fast moving western, with the hero winning out against all odds.

Broadway: Same.

Ritz: Same.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 3.—Because only one of their company's ten vessels is in service this season, the freighter C. There is a captain on the bridge, captains for first and second mate and two captains' watchmen.

Tips on CONTRA

BLAM AGAINST THREE ACES.

By TOM O'NEIL.

The holder of three aces has an irresistible temptation to double a slam effort, but success at such a contract is a feat of Joseph I. Spector of Bridgeport, Conn.

His triumph was due to a wrong guess by the doubler as to the order in which to lead his aces. Here was the hand:

The bidding was: south one heart; west pass; north one spade; east pass; south three spades (a force commanding partner to keep on at least until a game contract was reached); west pass; north five spades; east pass; south six spades; west double; all pass. Most players would bid the higher ranking suit first.

West led the ace of hearts from the shortest of his three suits headed by ace, and then guessed wrong. Had he led the ace of diamonds the contract would have been set.

The longer clubs in dummy should have been a warning against the possibility of a ruff of the ace of clubs by south. West, however, led the ace of clubs and the slam was made.

Spector after trumping the club ace exhausted opponents of trumps, discarded the diamonds from the north hand on the hearts in his own, ruffed two diamonds of the south hand in dummy and discarded south's last diamond on the king of clubs.

Soviet Scientists To Study Stars.
Leningrad (AP)—Under auspices of the All-Union Conference of Astronomers, an expedition of Soviet scientists will travel to New Zealand this summer to measure the declination of stars in the southern hemisphere.

"To Profit"
The expression "to boot" comes from the root "booty" derived from the Gothic "boitan" meaning "to profit."

Means "Hold"

The word "choas" is equivalent to an earlier spelling "ho," which is probably an abbreviation for "hold," since this is essentially the meaning of the exclamation.

PACKARD!

The remarkable new five-passenger sedan is factory-priced at $1750

HAVE YOU ever longed for the day when you could become the proud owner of a Packard car?
That day is here. You can become the owner of a Packard—the smart, new Light Eight which is available at a price but little greater than you are asked to pay for cars offering far less in appearance, performance and prestige.

The new Packard Light Eight is a strikingly handsome car. In appearance it belongs unmistakably to the distinguished Packard family—it is modern and original in its youthful grace of line and proportion. You will find it a big, roomy and substantial car, too, for it is built on a chassis of 123 inch wheelbase and is "light" only in comparison with the other, larger cars of the Packard line—the Standard Eight, the Eight DeLuxe and the new Twin Six.

Before buying any car this spring be sure to see and drive the Packard Light Eight. You will thrill to the performance of its 110 horsepower, straight-eight engine—its Silent Syn-chro-mesh Transmission, quiet in all three speeds—its simple, safe Finger Control Free-Wheeling and Ride Control. You will be delighted that such important features as shutter-proof glass in windshield and all windows, bumpers front and rear and six-ply tires are standard equipment at no extra cost.

The factory price of the Five-Passenger Sedan is but $1750—that of other models only $1795.
Bring in your old car today. We will tell you to the last dollar what it is worth, and show you how you can buy your Packard Light Eight out of income, if you so desire, with payments that are surprisingly small.

They Call This May
Be yourself, dear May, do not try to ape your predecessor.
Mind your manners as you ought.
Take June for example, please her.
April shifts from harsh to gentle.
Do not be so temperamental.

Time is a cat which scratches at the corners of a man's mouth and eyes. If he smiles at the cat, the sears turn up at the ends. If he seeks at it, the corners of the sears turn down.

Alma—What would you do if a well looking salesman waited on you while you were buying underwear?
Celia—Gosh, I think I'd have a fit.

The American wrote an advertising broadsheet on Bigger and Better Elephants!

The burglar's wife was on the witness stand and the prosecuting attorney was conducting a rigorous examination:

Prosecuting Attorney—Madam,
you are the wife of this man?
Burglar's Wife—Yes.
Prosecuting Attorney—You knew he was a burglar when you married him?

Burglar's Wife—Yes.
Prosecuting Attorney—How did you come to marry such a man?
Burglar's Wife—Well, I was getting old and had to choose between a lawyer and a burglar.
The cross examination stopped right there.

The brave man who succeeds is called a hero. The brave man who fails is called a fool. If you want to lose a friend set his faults to music and frequently sing them under his window. No matter how often love or the postman may pass her by, a woman always hopes there will be something thrilling in the next "male". And did you hear about the fellow who always played trump because someone had told him that when in doubt play trump? There's always room at the top of the racketeering business, if you can get low-down enough.

The Elusive Goal
The greatest race is never won.
The bravest deed is never done.
The richest man is free from gold.
The sweetest tale is never told.
The greatest joy is born in pain.
The greatest love is love in vain.
The things worth while in this life
so vain
Are the things we never quite attain.

Here is a thought for the young men and young women graduates of high school and college: If we don't discipline ourselves, the world shall have to do the job for us.

Sunday School Teacher (reading of the deluge)—And then it rained for 40 days and 40 nights.
Bright Pupil—And were the farmers satisfied then, teacher?

A man is reliably reported to have had the following experience some years ago: He saw a message and an address on an egg he got for breakfast. The message read:

"This egg was packed by a girl thousands of miles from the United States. She is supposed to be the prettiest girl in this neighborhood, and is prepared to marry the man who eats this egg."

The man cabled her: "I'll marry you."

The girl's reply read: "I am flattered by your proposal, but I am now married and have three children."

Walter (observing diner's dissatisfaction)—Wasn't your egg cooked long enough, sir?

Diner—Yes, but it wasn't cooked soon enough.

Before referring to the other fellow's job as a soft snap be sure first of all that you understand the intricacies and responsibilities of his task.

fourths of her beanie."

year. According to company officials, work is already nearing completion at the corporation's million-dollar proving ground west of South Bend on five special cars which will participate in the Memorial Day race under Studebaker sponsorship. While the cars will have the appearance of racing cars, they will, in reality, be of a semi-stock nature—stock in all important particulars, with a few minor changes to conform to racing requirements. The cars will be driven by professional racing drivers.

Portraying the romance of the rubber industry, and the part played in its development by the Goodrich Company, manufacturers of more than 32,000 articles of rubber, The B. F. Goodrich Company has issued its latest publication, "The Wonder Book of Rubber." After relating discovery of rubber by South American Indians, and tracing slow growth of its use in earlier years, the book turns to description of manufacturing processes. It gives brief, but clear explanation of construction of tires, footwear, rubber sundries, mechanical goods and other products, covering the range of American industry.

WHAT SHOKAN.

Test Shokan, May 2—Report is that the Healeys are having a delightful stay in Detroit. The return trip is scheduled not to begin for several days yet.

Bernard Dwyer of Kingston visited his parents on Sunday.

Charles Dwyer and John Thompson received the good word sent out to report for work at Brown Station Monday morning as members of the Department of Water Supply labor force. The layoff this winter was a month longer than usual, and $5.50 per day isn't to be expected at these times.

Jane Snyder was given a birthday surprise Saturday afternoon by her parents and sister, Betty. The school children were invited, also, Mrs. West and her sisters, Ester and Anna. A most delightful time is reported.

Everyone was sorry to learn that it was necessary for Miss Olive Shurmer to undergo an operation for appendicitis at the Benedictine Hospital. On Friday morning the bus kids all chipped in and sent a floral remembrance to their companion. Olive has a host of friends who wish her a speedy recovery.

Harry Braithwaite of Shokan, well known florist and nurseryman and landscape designer, has completed the work of grading and seeding the lawn about the home of R. Frederick Chissey of Kingston, and planting a border of barberry bushes numbering nearly 300. The work has attracted a deal of attention and reveals the skill of Mr. Braithwaite as a craftsman in his line.

Pete Gardner has invited all his friends, along the mail route to take in the Mt. Tremper Grange play, "Just Farm Folks," to be given as a benefit performance Tuesday evening at Wittenberg Church hall. Pete appeared on the route Saturday with his adapted all work truck, capable of wood sawing, fence jumping and whatnot. It seems the critter is bound to get onery at times, so the genius Pete has fastened a poke to the front end as a precautionary measure. He hopes that this arrangement will be apt to keep the rebel inside the fences, for a spell anyway.

Wilson Terwilliger, popular milk truck driver, reports that the last vestige of the supposed airplane wreck lying on the far side of High Point has entirely disappeared. With the melting of the snow banks along the ledges the reported wreckage grew smaller each passing day, after searching parties to the scene failed to locate exactly where the low flying machine was said to have been seen to crash head on. Luckily this was a case where dame rumor was decidedly all wrong, although reports spread far and wide, and anyway, "all's well that ends well."

The warm week-end and rain brought a number of city visitors to the community. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Case J. Gwin and Gene Braxton, of the Burglar House; Mrs. Blanche Bessard and Mr. Julius, also Miss Inez Saterlee, a Maple Dell, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woolheiser at Traver Hollow.

There was a fine attendance present at the Saturday night session of Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge, which included most of the new members. At the close a hotly contested series of pinocle and euchre games were in order. On Thursday evening of this week the regular bi-monthly session of the Olive Rebekahs will be held. Work on the Watson Hollow road went along all week. The north approach to the Bushkill bridge which was badly rutted, has been much improved. After leveling and breaking up the shale hauled by the several trucks from the inexhaustible supply at Yale quarry dump, the 10-ton town road roller was brought into good use. This hard shale will require "some" riding, but once it is worn down should make a substantial roadbed. The working gang is to be relayed this week by laying off some and taking on others, thus dividing the job up along the line.

Drilling was started Saturday at Dolan's bank at West Shokan Heights. The water hole at the bottom has pretty well dried up, so that trucks can get in close to the blasted ledge. The shale from this bank is excellent for top dressing and is not so hard as that from Ernie Constance's nearby quarry. It is understood that considerable needed work is to be done in sections on the West Shokan Heights road from Kelder's corner down to the boulevard.

Harry Arom of Olive Bridge, who has been operating the town road roller this spring, has been recalled to his employment with the department of water supply. He will be placed on the roller by Raymond Miller of Broadhead, so it is reported. Mr. Miller is an experienced operator of machinery.

D. W. S. Foreman Virgil Gordon of Broadhead plans to try the Indian method of fertilizing his potatoes and corn this spring by planting a fish or two in each hill. Mr. Gordon has access to an unlimited supply from the hundreds of perch removed every day or two from the screen chambers at the lower level, where water is drawn for the east basin at Brown Station before entering the aerators, and proceeding purified on its 96 mile route to New York city. On Saturday Mr. Gordon reported finding a four foot eel, lively as a cricket, trying to get through into the aqueduct.

Miss Inez Saterlee, who spent the week-end at Maple Dell was accompanied to her home in Kingston Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avery. Miss Saterlee is a native of Olive and is at present teaching school at Flatbush. She is a granddaughter of the late Alanson Macbeth, whose funeral was held a few weeks ago at the Baptist Church.

Mr. Dickson of Kingston, superintendent of the Corbould estate, was among a party of Sunday evening callers at West Shokan Heights. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Blanche Bessard and son, Julius, of Long Island City, week-ending at Maple Dell, accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Neam, Mrs. Elvyn Davis and daughter, Cornelia, motored to Edenville and return. They visited the Valley Gardens nursery at Accord, also Pine Beach Cemetery, where Mrs. Davis went to the graves of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Simpson.

Supervisor Chester Lyons of Ashokan was a business caller Friday in Olive Bridge vicinity, also at West Shokan. He was driving a spike and span crew (constructed much all ready for delivery).

The town board members held their monthly business session Friday night at Olive Bridge Hall. Principally routine matters and the action on relief bills claimed their most attention. William Jordan, superintendent of highways, was also present.

On Friday evening a prominent local group composed of Mrs. Edmond C. Burzher, Mrs. Claude Bell, Mrs. Charles H. Weidner and Mrs. Lester S. Davis, were patrons at the Reformed Ladies' Aid Church party at Shokan.

Among Sunday afternoon visitors entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Golden Van Henschooten of Hemlock Knoll Cottage on the Shokan north boulevard were Mr. and Mrs. William Greene of Ashokan and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bedell of Shokan.

Sails are all set for the annual school meetings Tuesday evening. As lighting facilities at the local school house are not so good as those usually found in the ten wise virgins of Biblical lore, and bring their well filled lanterns. Perhaps after a bit since New York city has paid its tax and money is no object, voters in district No. 8 will have the school house wired for electric lights from the nearby line, taking example from Boiceville district.

Donald Bishop, who is attending Hartwick College at Oneonta, spent the week-end at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Watson Bishop. Mrs. Bishop is very poorly at this writing.

Mrs. Charles Barber of Main street entertained visitors on Sunday.

Betty and Jack Whalen, also Esther Zimmerman of Brown Station were recent callers one evening at the home of Mrs. James Cook.

On Sunday, Stewart Jones of Kingston visited his old time engineer friend, Edward Avery, of Maple Dell. Ed and Stewart visited the once familiar scenes at Yale Quarry from whence they piloted their locomotives on thousands of trips of the quarry trains, hauling stone for the big dam and dykes, down the winding grade and across the level and 90-foot iron trestle spanning the Esopus, thence up the east side to the crusher plant, located near the east end of the dam.

What a change twenty years has made. The old rail roadbed is overgrown at the quarry end with trees, some six inches in diameter. But once more in memory they sat at the throttle on a night run as the loaded train backed out of the quarry to the main line, and releasing the brakes let her roll wildly down the winding right of way, sending showers of sparks flying from the rails as they checked up a bit on the air brakes. They had their thrills aplenty on those wild runs, when they laughed in the face of danger, but now looking back, shudder as the picture fades from eyes which dim with flowing tears.

The hustling Maple Dell farmers, Ed and Jim, already have their oats sown. They lead while others follow.

William Burgher took electric treatments for neuritis at Dr. Gross's office on Friday, at Phoenix not improving very much.

On Thursday Mrs. Edward Avery and Mrs. James Burgher were business callers in Kingston. On their return in behalf of the Ladies' Aid, they presented Mrs. Watson Bishop with an elegant basket of fruit, which is very much appreciated by her. The president of the Aid, Mrs. Nettie Jones, called on Mrs. Bishop Thursday evening. Mrs. Bishop together with Mrs. Sarah M. Mathews organized the Ladies' Aid of the Olive Shokan Baptist Church a half century ago. Upon the re-organizing of the Aid after the church was moved, Mrs. Bishop served as its first president. Throughout the long period of years she has been one of its most active members.

The usual weekly quilting and luncheon will be held at the church basement on Wednesday. Visitors are cordially welcome.

Mrs. Edith Cutler of Palentown has returned home after spending several days with relatives and friends here.

Recently Egbert Boice went about the gruesome task of removing from the little Watson Hollow roadside cemetery the remains of his father and mother, also those of seven others, all relatives. Their hallowed rest was disturbed on account of transferring to Mr. Boice's plot in the Bushkill cemetery. Among these

In New Film "War"

A new batch of fireworks has been set off in Hollywood by Marlene Dietrich (above) and her director, Josef von Sternberg (below). Their refusal to work on the film "Blonde Venus" first brought a suspension of salary and then the prospect of a court suit.

WALLKILL

Wallkill, May 2.—On Wednesday afternoon, May 2, Mrs. Harry Dunn will entertain at a card party at her home here for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher Association of the John G. Borden High School. This is the first of a series of card parties to be held during the month of May. The second party is scheduled to be held on the evening of May 1 at the home of Mrs. John Lawrence. Other dates and places will be announced later.

An Friday evening, April 29, the Parent-Teacher Association held a very successful spring dance in the Community Hall. A large number attended. Music was furnished by the Aces of Rhythm orchestra of Wallkill. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Dancing was enjoyed until 1 a. m.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Victor Van Wagenen on his eighteenth birthday on Tuesday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

The Wallkill Unit of Boy Scouts in uniform attended the regular services of the Dutch Reformed Church on Sunday morning, May 1.

Ransom Lowe has been called on the regular panel of trial jurors for this term of court.

A large delegation from the local unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union attended the Community Night of the Helen A. Palmer Women's Christian Temperance Union held in Plattkill Grange Hall on Saturday evening.

After much hard work on the were some of the pioneers who, when Watson Hollow held its place in the sun, took an active part in the booming days when tanning, lumbering and farming worked hand in hand. Mr. Boice was assisted in this duty by the sturdy hands of Alonzo Burgher. This is reminiscent of the wholesale evacuating of the cemetery population within the reservoir property lines, some twenty years ago.

The hour of Sunday school has been changed to one o'clock, daylight saving time. There was a good attendance on Sunday, despite the steady rain, which the farmers welcomed as a necessary factor for beginning their spring farming. The meeting was opened by the singing of "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart" and "Take the Name of Jesus With You." The superintendent, Mrs. John Thompson, resumed her position of adult teacher and very ably conducted the lesson, which was entitled, "Isaac and His Wells." The closing selection was "Dwelling in Beulah Land."

part of residents in Wallkill, State Troopers have again been placed in Wallkill with Roak's garage as headquarters. Residents of Wallkill claim that protection is needed due to the erection of the New Medium Security Prison near here. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crookston, who have been spending the winter in Ellenville with their daughter, Mrs. Edwin Stealey, will soon return to Wallkill.

Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Reynolds, local dentist, have been occupying the Crookston home for the winter. The many friends of Miss Beale Ring were surprised to hear of her removal to Kingston Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. At this writing she is improving nicely. Mrs. Gustina Sparks is again at her home here after several months of traveling and visiting friends. Mrs. Margaret Mason, who has been seriously ill, is improving nicely at her home here. Many from here are planning to attend the band concert under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Shawangunk on May 6, at their Community Hall.

FASHIONS By ELEANOR GUNN

The Round Silhouette Is Talbot's

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

Even with the hint of greater length on one side, as illustrated in the hat at the bottom, the general impression of these three hats by J. Suzanne Talbot gives importance to the round silhouette.

The hat at top, with crown folded in around the sides, is of beige felt, with crown band of beige grosgrain, and with three quills in shades of green and navy curved around the crown.

Center, a shape with brim turned up at left side is developed in flat shiny white paillasson and is trimmed by an upstanding quill of brown and white.

The last hat is of ochre linen; the ribbon is royal blue peau d'ange, with lacquer finish.

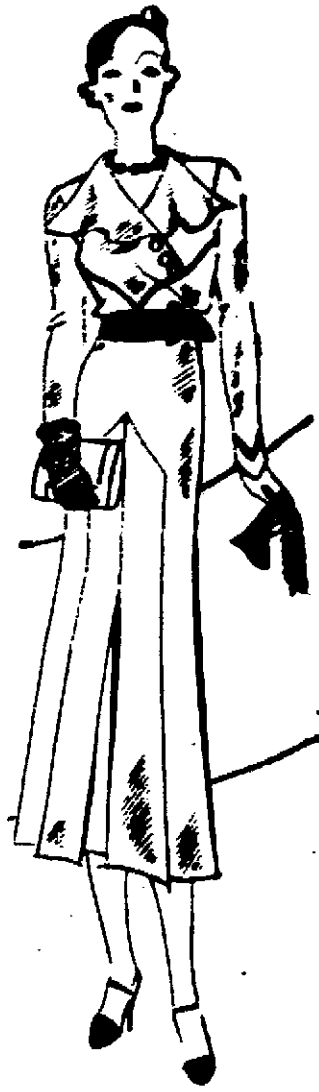

The Irish Question Comes Up Again

New York—Women seem unshaken in their loyalty to the ensemble idea, call it what one will. They seem more loyal to the bright or light frock over which one wears a harmonizing coat, not a matching one. Efforts to turn the tables on this arrangement and reverse the color positions are not so successful, although one has every reason to expect that the printed coat over the plain frock will be tried out with success this summer, since the idea is new and effective.

Anyone who knows her Paris knows that it is really unusual when color—that is, bright color—outrids black for day wear. Your Parisienne makes a sort of fetish of the black costume, with or without white embellishments, and it is most unusual when she goes in strongly for color. Grey, grey beige, and beige are neutral enough to find a place in her wardrobe, but it seems to have taken the depression to drive the fashionable Parisienne from her traditional preference for black and neutrals into green, red and blue. Navy and all shades of blue are very strong in Paris, and so, too, are the aforesaid colors, especially among the younger set. Curiously enough, it is the winey red tones that are the headlines just now.

An interesting little trick we have learned from Paris is that of adding crocheted details and crocheted accessories to our costumes. Besides crocheted hats and blouses, crocheted neckwear, gloves, handbags, and even jewelry are shown. A version of the last-named recently seen consisted of necklace and bracelet which were in three tones of blue wool yarn, and there are small pouch handbags in regular crocheted stitch in wool yarn. The gloves are mainly in white linen thread and baby Irish stitch. The light-colored frock for luncheon or bridge or tea. Revers, facings and belt are noteworthy details.

THE LIGHT, OR WHITE, FROCK

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

This satin frock has a tailored appeal, and is copied extensively in white as well as colors. It is suggested for the woman who likes a light-colored frock for luncheon or bridge or tea. Revers, facings and belt are noteworthy details.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Yellow and orange are receiving considerably more attention in sportswear as summer collections are presented.

The pique evening dress, in white or pastels, and the printed handkerchief linen frock, are meeting with good response.

Black evening dresses with red at shoulders or waistline are of current interest.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, May 2—Farmers are rejoicing over the fine rain that has soaked up the hard soil and is turning the fields into a beautiful shade of green. James Eckert has already planted his garden and should be enabled to enjoy early vegetables quite as soon as Ernie Cassable at West Shokan Heights. Frank Jordan sowed his seeds on Saturday, and Ernest Palen expects to get his seedlings in this week. Harlowe McLean is now daily breaking his new horse to ploughing.

James Gordon is working on the new road job for awhile after getting caught up pretty well with his home work.

Harry Luddy, proprietor of High Point Poultry Farm, is making an addition to his main chicken house.

Raymond Miller has been confined to his home with illness for several days. All the neighbors are hoping for his speedy recovery.

The Whitmore family of New York city are spending the week-end at their new home here, formerly the Canfield property.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren of Gilboa came down for a week-end stay at their property along the boulevard, which they intend to open as a tourist's resort.

Sam Cassalia has contracted a severe spring cold from exposure to the reservoir fishing grounds last week when the fish were not biting.

Truckman Henry Bell is again engaged on the road job after repairing his truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palen and son, Vincent, were in Kingston last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Delamater of Kingston are frequent visitors at the Jordan farm.

Lorania Tweedy of Brodhead Heights called on her friend, Ruth Gordon, on Friday.

Miss Mavis Miller visited her chum, Blanche Palen, on Friday.

John Hughes is grubbing up his garden ready for planting.

Mrs. William Beesmer has her house all spic and span for summer boarders.

Oliver Tweedy visited friends in West Shokan recently.

Mrs. Hickman and daughter, Irene, are enjoying a prolonged visit at their home here, formerly the Decker farm.

The fill in the road near the school house and swamp is finished. Also repairs have been made to the cross road leading to the post office.

Gladys Palen was home from school several days last week due to a cold.

Isaac Winchell of Brodhead Heights made a business trip to the West Shokan stores on Wednesday with his horse and wagon.

Kermitt Crispell spent Wednesday evening at Roy Palen's.

Mrs. Esther Eckert has finished her busy housecleaning.

Wilson Hamilton is still employed with the road working. Mrs. Hamilton made her usual trip to the post office on Friday for the Freeman.

Mr. Hamilton greatly enjoys reading the news after his day's work.

John Eckert obligingly entertains callers at the post office when time permits, with his famous "old Jim Schmorborn saddle," while Brother James accompanies on his harmonica. They play mostly old time fiddle and reels, of which special favorites are "The Devil Shooting Crows on the Mississippi" and "Red Wing."

Irring Healey of West Shokan Heights was a Sunday afternoon caller with his friend, Sam Cassalia.

Woodchucks are plentiful this spring on neighborhood farms. Buster Palen's dog just makes life miserable for any that he can sink his teeth into, and Roy Palen fears he has strangled his 22 making long shots across the fields.

John Bell plans to do farming on a large scale this year.

Ernest Palen attended the auction Saturday afternoon at the John Papelyas farm in the Winchell district. Mr. Papelyas died during the winter.

Quite a lot of excitement was caused by the roadside fire last Sunday, between Hickman's and Van Buren's properties. No damage was done as the fire was confined to the brushy growth.

Sam Cassalia and Ernest Palen plan to build pasture fences this week around the woodlot back of Gordon's.

Virgil Gordon, assisted by his sturdy sons, Jimmy and Robert, have been cleaning up about the grounds evenings, after their day's tasks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Winchell of Kingston recently visited the Eckert family.

John Hughes spent a recent evening with John and James Eckert. Mr. Hughes greatly enjoys music and is quite an artist himself.

James Tweedy is still engaged working on the new fruit cage, and about the orchards and vineyard.

William Jordan is a very busy man looking after the road working business.

John Bell is a frequent caller at Raymond Miller's.

Louis Duto of Kingston spent the week-end at his P. G. A. country club property on the boulevard.

Oscar Crispell and sister, Elsie, came up from Kingston over Saturday night. Miss Crispell will graduate this June from Kingston High School.

William Beesmer was a business caller recently at West Shokan. A number from this neighborhood attended the Tongore Church Sunday morning.

The regular egg shipments continue each week from High Point Poultry Farm. Mr. Luddy reports that eggs are not bringing what they should to make the poultry business very profitable.

"I don't usually gossip, but—"

I DON'T MEAN this unkindly—you know I rarely gossip—but can't you give her a hint? She is so strange about some things. The way she wears her lingerie two or three days without a change! Every one perspires a little—doesn't she realize how easy it is to offend?"

remove these unpleasant acids and odors completely, yet gently, so that colors and fabrics are never harmed.

And it takes only 4 minutes or less. Don't take chances! Follow this dainty habit—Lux underthings and stockings after every wearing.

Avoid Offending—underthings absorb perspiration odor. Protect daintiness this way:

1 Wash this 4-minute way. One tablespoon of Lux does one day's undies . . . stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.

2 Wash after each wearing, for perspiration acids left in silk lace colors and not threads. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—leaves colors and fabrics like new.

3 Never rub dainty lingerie with cake soap. Rubbing tends to streak and wear out silk.

4 Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

For Dishes

Blue and white striped cotton print with red organdy for the waist and sleeves is also suggested. The lower sections of the waist are cut in pointed outline, and the cuff is stitched over the sleeve in deep points. The skirt is in wrap effect and joins the waist at high waistline.

Designed in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 40 will require 3 1/2 yards of 39 inch printed or striped material and 1 1/2 yard of plain material. If made of one material, it will require 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. The width of the dress at the lower edge with skirt fronts lapped is 2 yards. How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoon full of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose weight 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at McBride Drug Stores or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen. Imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

Taxpayers Consider Disposal Of Armory

At the regular meeting of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association in the city court room Monday night President Jay Terry appointed a committee to act on the proposition of the city taking over the armory on Broadway and Hoffman street when the 154th Field Artillery, New York State National Guard, removes to its new headquarters at the end of North Manor avenue upon completion of the new drill shed there.

The committee consists of A. Noble Graham, J. A. Joyce, W. H. Everett, William O'Reilly and Dr. W. H. Connell.

There were no reports by committee.

seen by Chairman Edward P. Ward of the tax and assessment commission, spoke on the work to be taken up by that group. He stated that the aim of every member would be to get in accordance with the town and county placed in them in appointing them to the committee. This body is one of the most important of the association.

Thomas J. Comerford dwelt on the equalization of the assessment roll. He said that an effort was being made by city officials to have one of the best balanced rolls ever compiled. Mr. Comerford also said that no matter how perfect an assessment roll might be, it would be impossible to have it meet with the approval of everyone.

J. Abramowitz and J. Netburn were granted the privilege of the floor, but in their remarks, they were declared too personal. It was a difficult job putting the gag on Mr. Abramowitz, but the task was finally accomplished. He was forced to take his seat because of injecting personalities into his fiery speech on equalization of taxes. He insisted on mentioning the names of upstart merchants and their assessments. It is the duty of the tax and assessment committee to look after such matters he was informed and was advised to take up the issue with that body. Mr. Netburn was ruled out of order when he criticized Mr. Abramowitz. Mrs. Adele Bregman also gave a talk on taxes.

The assemblage stood in silence for one minute out of respect to two deceased members, Max Kline of 26 Broadway and W. E. Price of 219 Albany avenue.

Copies of by-laws, recently printed, were given to the members of the association.

It was moved by Edward P. Ward that all members be notified that at the next meeting a vote will be taken on the question of holding an open forum after each business session. This is to overcome the rule stating that no one may have more than five minutes on the floor at a time. The forum will allow full discussion of all subjects pertaining to taxes.

CROWDING TAKES TITLE TO BROADWAY BUILDING

David Grubert, proprietor of the Club Delicatessen, 725 Broadway took title Thursday to the building in which he started business in 1917.

Grubert, by strict attention to the building, has in spite of the crowded conditions, within the past year added an addition to the property, and during the American Legion Drive to secure money for the unemployed, placed an addition to the building.

Savings and Loan Association Met

About 75 members of the South-eastern New York League of Savings and Loan Associations attended the annual meeting Monday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Although the local Savings and Loan Associations are members the up-town association had received no notice of the meeting and consequently had no delegation present.

Twelve communities of the district were represented at the session, including representatives from Ulster, Orange, Sullivan and Rockland counties. The meeting was addressed by G. L. Bliss, president of the New York State League of Savings and Loan Associations. Harry Minners, president of the Metropolitan League of Savings and Loan Associations, also spoke and reported evidence of more saving now than at previous times. He stated that people who were receiving less salary now than a few months ago were saving a larger amount of their annual wage.

The representatives of the association were welcomed to Kingston by Mayor Eugene B. Carey. At the business session the following officers were elected: George Rogers, Monroe, president; Clarence De LeMater, Poughkeepsie, vice president; Clarence Crowley, Walkkill, secretary-treasurer.

W. C. T. U. Organizer Delivers Address

Positive That Conditions Were Immensely Improved—Forty or Fifty Year National Lecturer.

Coming to this country twenty years ago from Scotland and since engaged in social service work in various sections of the United States, Mrs. Charlotte Fraser Schneider gave a talk at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church Monday night that was decidedly interesting to an audience of 40 or 50 that had gathered to hear her.

Mrs. Schneider is a national lecturer and organizer for the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the meeting Monday evening was in charge of Mrs. Andrew Keefe, president of the Kingston W. C. T. U., who spoke briefly and presented the Rev. Arthur S. Cook, pastor of the church, who read the scripture and offered prayer. Following a pleasing vocal solo by Mrs. Kiefer, Mrs. Schneider gave her address, the second for the day, she having addressed a meeting at St. James M. E. Church in the afternoon.

She opened her address by saying that never in the history of the United States had there been as big a battle as that which was now under way. A descendant of that Fraser whose name is so prominently connected with the history of the pioneer days in Canada and proud of the fact that she was born on the same day of the year as General Washington, she had as a girl a great desire to visit America, which in her mind stood for all that was great and desirable. She arrived in New York on a hot day in summer and was distinctly disappointed when she found here so many of the undesirable conditions with which she had been familiar in her own country.

Later she returned to this country to take up social service work and subsequently visited nearly every large city in the country to familiarize herself with conditions. She told of conditions in Chicago, particularly in the stockyard sections, when the police were called out on pay day because of the disorders in Denver, in the south and elsewhere.

Conditions Immensely Improved
Since prohibition, Mrs. Schneider said, she had made a survey of these same sections and she was positive in her statement that conditions were immensely improved. "The Bowery, in New York," said Mrs. Schneider, "is 80 per cent better than it was in the pre-prohibition days," and she spoke in particular of a New Year's eve trip through the section in which she had been a worker in earlier days. She met but two intoxicated persons on this occasion and later in the evening, when she visited a well known mission she was told that four such persons had been seen in the mission that day, whereas formerly the number would have been from 70 to 100.

Speaking in the same line she told of a visit to the same stockyard section in Chicago that had once been known for its reputation for disorder and drunkenness. She found there

One of the best day nurseries in Chicago, built by stockyard workers and in one of the halls she had noted the following framed motto: "You can't have beer and a building like this."

Continuing her argument Mrs. Schneider quoted Evangelical Book in the statement that whereas in pre-prohibition days Salvation Army saloons closed from twelve to fifteen thousand drinks every night, the average now was about seven per night. She also claimed that there were fewer drunks in colleges than there was in the old days, and that there were one-third the number of students.

Statistics were quoted regarding conditions in Canada under government control of liquor. It was claimed that there were 60,000 bootleggers in the province of Alberta, another province showed an increase of one per cent in bootlegging after a few months in British Columbia, and that "Liquor has been more plentiful in four months in British Columbia than in a year in Brooklyn."

In regard to the reported heavy drinking among high school students the speaker told of a case in Providence, where she had been working at one time. A mother had complained of the terrible amount of drinking. Questioned, the mother finally admitted that she did not believe the number would exceed 75 out of 1,999 pupils in the school. Later, in a conversation with one of the older teachers of the school, Mrs. Schneider was informed that possibly there might have been as many as 30 who had been under the influence of liquor during the past year. She declared the tendency to indict the youth of America today and said that investigation did not bear out the statements made.

The failure of the prohibition law was blamed on the fact as alleged that enforcement forces had not been headed by people who believed in it. She believed that the present head of the prohibition bureau, Amos Woodward, really believed in the law he was trying to enforce.

The speaker admitted the right of any person to work for the repeal of the 18th amendment, but held that they should obey the law while it stood upon the statute books. She held that aliens who come to this country and receive its advantages and then violate its laws, should be fingerprinted and deported. She spoke of the "shallow patriotism" of Americans who aid and abet law violation and told of an experience she had during the war, of the supreme sacrifice made by a young lad from a western home, an only son, and of the reply his mother made to a letter announcing her boy's death in France: "I am not the only mother who has lost her boy. I gave him for the best country in the world and if I had another I would be proud to have him follow in his footsteps."

Mrs. Schneider spoke briefly of the coming national conventions. She felt that if the Democrats kept on as they had been doing there was nothing to fear. She believed that President Hoover was "drier" than when he went into the White House and that the women of the South would be found supporting him.

MRS. GOLDWASSER FOUND HER BOARDING HOUSE RANSACKED.

Mrs. J. Goldwasser, who conducts a boarding house at 473 Wilbur avenue, has been away from home for some time with her family, and when they returned to the boarding house Monday afternoon it was to find that someone had broken into the house in their absence and ransacked it. As far as could be ascertained nothing was taken. The police were notified and made an investigation.

Children Clinics Will Be Held Here

Child Health Week will be observed by the Board of Health of this city by having 150 children from the age of 6 months to 6 years given the benefit of a complete physical examination by a group of examiners from the state health department, commencing May 9 and continuing until May 13.

There are a few appointments left which may be obtained at the health board office at 123 city hall. Parents who are unable to bring their children to these clinics should take them to their family physician so that if there are any existing defects present they may be corrected before the child enters school.

It is of greatest importance that children entering school be in the best possible physical condition so that they may be able to assimilate the knowledge imparted to them during their school years.

The child health consultation clinic will be held at the Knights of Columbus building on Broadway, at Andrew street, May 9 to 13, and 30 children will be examined each day.

Problem of Nature
Ants, bees and wasps are the world's dominant insects. Weak members of the family often resemble the powerful stingers. Birds feed quite freely on both wasps and bees. Ants constitute a favorite food of toads. These batrachians also dine freely on yellow jackets and wasps. Mice, weasels, foxes and badgers eat the nests of bumble bees. Skunk dig out nests of yellow jackets. Bear plunder the homes of honey bees and hornets. Yet the members of this family are regarded as the most highly protected of all insects and weaker members of the insect race apparently imitate them. To what purpose, has been asked.

"Buy First, Then Read"
Shakespeare's first editors, John Hemminge and Henrie Condell, may worthily compare to the best advertising brains of today, for they began their preface with:

"The fate of all books depends upon your capacities, and not of your heads alone, but of your purses. Well, it is now published and you will stand for your privilege, we know: to read and censure. Do so, but buy it first."

APRIL MEETING OF HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

The April meeting of the Kingston High School Parent-Teacher Association was held Tuesday evening, April 20, in the high school library. During the business meeting Mrs. Van Steenburgh, Mrs. Vernon and Mrs. Jackson were appointed as nominating committee for elections to be held at the May meeting. Mr. Paul was chairman of the program. The topic was Citizenship, and Mr. Paul introduced Mrs. Boyd, who spoke on the scope of teaching of civics. Mr. Fraser outlined the changes of the state requirements in civics and showed how those requirements differed from the ones of 15 years ago, and Mrs. Witter spoke on "How the Study of American History Broadens the Outlook of the Individual." Refreshments were then served. The next meeting will be held May 17. Miss Hull and Miss Smith will speak.
